

FOCUS ON QUALITY

through our vertical integrated business model

VERTICAL INTEGRATED BUSINESS MODEL

From the Head-office in Weert, Netherlands. Global Food Group supports and directs the complete supply chain, from day old chick to liquid egg product. This unique structure of directing the supply chain contributes to the fact that Global Food Group is able to supply egg products with the best price/quality ratio.

We invite you to see our vertical integrated supply chain:

- Take a look inside in one of our feed mills and learn about the impact that feed has on the quality of egg products.
- Take a look inside one of our farms and see how our hens are housed and producing first quality eggs.
- Visit one of our egg processing plants to experience how much attention we pay to quality control.

PRODUCT OVERVIEW

High quality processed egg products

The egg products from Global Food Group are processed with care, and because of the automated production process, Global Food Group can offer egg products with the best price/quality ratio.

The processed egg products are fully traceable, due to the vertical integrated business model. It is known which resources have been used for the production of the layer feed, and it is clear where and in which way the eggs have been produced.

The quality department within the company has developed its own quality system, which makes sure that the produced products have the very best quality.

Global Food Group has its own Laboratory which works according the regulations for accreditation.
